National Labor Union Endorses Biden for President

QUINCY, MA – The 48-person National Executive Board of the National Association of Government Employees (NAGE) has voted to endorse President Joseph Biden in his re-election campaign for President of the United States of America.

NAGE represents over 100,000 public and private sector employees in forty states. NAGE represents federal, state, county, and municipal employees, along with EMTs and Paramedics in both the public and private sectors.

“As the second union in the country to endorse the former Vice President in his 2019 campaign, NAGE is proud to support President Biden for re-election,” states NAGE National President David. J Holway. “Our members and leaders know that President Biden will lead us through another four years of growth with strength and wisdom. During his 2019 campaign, Biden promised to be the best friend labor had ever seen in the White House and he has lived up to that promise.”

President Biden has done an incredible for working people in his term as President. President Biden has brought us through a global pandemic, with unemployment rates down, increased American manufactured goods, aggressive climate change action, and historic student debt relieve for the middle- and working-class families. The Biden Administration has lobbied in favor of the Protecting the Right to Organize Act, proving themselves a constant friend to labor, and the American working people.
